

Armin B. Cremers received his doctorate in mathematics from the University of Karlsruhe in 1972, where he subsequently habilitated in computer science.

After teaching in Karlsruhe and as an assistant professor at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, he became a full professor (H4) at the University of Dortmund in 1976.

In 1990, he moved to the Institute of Computer Science at the University of Bonn as Director, where he founded the Artificial Intelligence and Robotics Research Group and led it until his retirement in 2014. In Dortmund and Bonn, he was dean and prorector.

In 2002, he founded the Bonn-Aachen International Center for Information Technology (b-it) together with Matthias Jarke and Kurt-Ulrich Witt as other scientific directors.

Further information:

- Biography: <https://aif.bit.uni-bonn.de/offices.html>