

Please make sure to complete the form which applies to you. There are two forms in accordance with the different module structures:

Module structure - effective from 01 October 2019 - for students who began their studies in the winter semester 2019/2020 or later

Module structure - effective from 01 October 2017 - applies to students who began their studies either in the winter semester 2017/2018 or 2018/2019

Both module structures are on the LSI exam office website for your reference.

Please register only for those courses in which you intend to participate and get credits. A withdrawal form has also been enclosed in the event that you have registered for a lab course or seminar and later on decide that you do not want to fulfil the course requirements for credits.

- Withdrawal from the LCs/seminars is only possible if the examination exercises have not been announced yet.
- Withdrawal from LCs/seminars taking place in the semester break is possible one week before the course starting date.
- Withdrawal from exams of lecture courses must take place one week prior to the exam date. A withdrawal from exams applies only to the next exam date. If you want to de-register from both exam attempts, please make this clear on the withdrawal form. A withdrawal from your third attempt is not possible.
- Please note if you are registered for an exam and cannot attend, you must submit a medical certificate (the form to be completed by your physician is also on our website under Timetable and Exam Schedule) within three days after the exam. Handing in a scanned copy first to meet the deadline will be accepted. Failure to hand in the medical certificate in time will result in a grade of "5", so please make sure to take this into consideration.

For further information, please refer to the exam regulations to be found on the b-it programs, M.Sc. in Life Science Informatics website.
